Seminar Objectives:

This intensive seminar is designed to provide participants with an overview of issues related to unconscious bias in organizations and offer evidence-based strategies to manage and resolve these issues. This seminar takes a growth-mindset approach which recognizes that everyone has some blindspots and can exhibit some form of bias, but that everyone also has the potential to learn from their cultural faux pas and increase their cultural humility (competence). This is an interactive and participative seminar.

Seminar details to be provided following registration.
