Faculty Disability Frequently Asked Questions

Q. What if a student’s accommodation letter raises questions regarding the core competencies of the coursework. How can I be both fair and not compromise the core requirements of my class?

A. Consult with the Disability Services if you have questions and/or concerns with student accommodations or how to approach specific course requirements.

Q. How can I help educate and inform my faculty/staff members about Disability Accommodation in the classroom and office?

A. Invite Disability Services to department meetings to discuss general accommodations for students with disabilities.

Q. What is the best way to refer a student that I suspect needs support from Disability Services?

A. Call Disability Services if you suspect that one of your students may be struggling from a disability. Our Phone number is 856-256-4259.

Q. Is there a best way to communicate with a struggling student if I know they have a disability?

A. Ask Disability Services to participate in a scheduled meeting for a student with a registered disability to assist in problem solving learning difficulties (with student permission).
Q. I have general questions regarding supporting a student with disabilities, but I am not sure how to ask the right questions.

A. Think of the Office of Disability Services as a resource for accommodating students with disabilities in the college setting.

Q. If I am an employee and have a disability or believe I need workplace accommodation(s) who do I contact?

A. If you are an employee who is seeking possible assistance under this policy, please contact the Office Employee Equity at 856-256-5494 or email Christy Mroz at mroz@rowan.edu.
